There will be a surprise party at Madison on Thursday evening. A good many will be disappointed as well as surprised.

Carpenter, Logan, and Hawley, wouldn't make a bad team in the Senate. They are more than a match for any three men the Confederates can send to Congress.

A friend of Matt. Carpenter who is now at Madison, and who never heard of any such word as "fall," says Matt. will be nominated by the caucus on the second ballot.

Our dispatches from Madison this afternoon says the Senatorial fight is narrowing down between Carpenter and Keyes. The chances of course being in favor of Carpenter.

Hon. Henry S. Magoon, of Darlington, who some supposed was pledged to Keyes, comes out with a card in the Milwaukee Sentinel, favoring Matt. Carpenter, for the Senate.

Indiana has heard something about the cipher. The Democratic caucus of the Legislature in that State has agreed almost unanimously that Tilden must not be a candidate in 1880.

Under resumption 50 millions of the four per cent. bonds were purchased in ten days. This does not look like resumption proving a failure. What was it that Doolittle said about resumption?

That time-honored joint resolution providing for biennial sessions of the Legislature has again been offered. Every year for nearly thirty years past, that resolution has been placed before the Legislature. It has grown gray in the service.

Dakota wants to become a State, on which the New York Tribune passes these remarks: "Dakota, with something over 5,000 voters, would like the privilege of becoming the thirty-ninth State in the Union. In view of the necessity of having somebody left over to do the voting, after the offices have been filled, Dakota may be obliged to wait and grow up with the country."

There is a town in New Hampshire of five or six hundred inhabitants, in which an individual rarely dies. The death rate is hardly one per cent. It is reported that many years have passed away without a single death occurring. Last year the mortality rate was no greater than three-quarters of one per cent. The only person who died in 1878 was four in number—their respective ages being, 92, 75, 72, and 69.

The Institute for the Education of the Blind, which is one of the best managed institutions in the State, asks for a smaller amount of money for current expenses than any other of our public charities. To-day a bill was introduced appropriating to it the sum of $18,500. The sums asked by the other institutions are: Industrial School, $52,000; Northern Hospital, $77,000; Institute for Deaf and Dumb, $30,000; State Hospital for Insane, $87,000; Institute for Deaf and Dumb, $30,000; State Hospital, $87,000.

Those who are pressing investigation for the purpose of showing that Tilden was cheated out of the Presidency, and thereby should be the leader of the Democracy in 1880, should profit by what the Louisville News, a Democratic paper says: "It is doubtful if even the report of the Potter Committee can secure a renomination for Mr. Tilden. The demand that he be run as the Great Defrauded will not win with the people who feel that he is lacking in the important point of a firm vertebral column. Our Uncle Samuel will have to go."

WAGES AND PRICES.

Those who contend that the present wages and prices are against the laboring-men and mechanics as compared with the days before the war, will do well to examine the figures, and will be convinced that the "good old Democratic days," of which we hear so much by Democrats and Green-backers, are altogether in the imagination of partisans. The New York Evening Post recently published the following table of prices which ruled in Boston for 1860, 1865, and 1878:

	1860.	1865.	1878.
Flour.....	$9.00	$20.00	$8.00
Butter.....	23	60	23
Pork.....	12 1/2	30	12 1/2
Tea.....	50	1 50	50
Sugar.....	11	16	10
Firemen.....	4	12	8
Beans.....	6	12	8
Cotton cloth.....	14	23	8

From this table we see that there is not a wide difference between the ante-war prices and those of 1878. But the force of this table will be more clearly seen when the wages are given for the same periods, which are as follows:

	1860.	1865.	1878.
First class mechanics.....	$1.50	$2.50	$2.17
Second class mechanics.....	1.17	1.75	1.43
Common laborers.....	1.00	1.50	1.25

The wages here given are considered by the Evening Post too low, if anything; but the Bureau of Labor Statistics of Massachusetts, which furnishes them, did not desire to exaggerate, and thus kept within the bounds of correctness. Even in 1878, when there is a general depression in nearly all branches of industry, one of the largest iron manufacturing establishments in Hartford, paid the following wages as compared with the other years given:

	1859 and 1860.	1873.	1878.
Laborers.....	$1.00 to $1.25	$1.00 to $1.25	$1.00 to $1.25
Unskilled mechanics.....	1.00 to 1.25	1.00 to 1.25	1.00 to 1.25
Mechanics.....	1.25 to 1.50	1.25 to 1.50	1.25 to 1.50
Skilled mechanics.....	1.50 to 2.00	1.50 to 2.00	1.50 to 2.00
Extra skilled mechanics.....	2.00 to 2.50	2.00 to 2.50	2.00 to 2.50
Firemen.....	2.00 to 2.50	2.00 to 2.50	2.00 to 2.50

"To illustrate the effect of the wages and prices of 1860 and 1878, let us suppose that a man on the first day of October in the year before the war, went out and bought a barrel of pork, a pound of lard, and a bushel each of corn and wheat. Discarding fractional parts of a cent, we shall find that they would have cost him $20.05. If

THE MORMONS.

Their Attitude in Regard to the Law—They ask for Liberal Treatment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Delegate Cannon, of Utah, disowns an alleged interview with him that lately appeared in a Boston paper, and says it is entirely fictitious.

interview represents him as saying that if the government attempts to enforce the decision of the Supreme Court pronouncing polygamy a crime the Mormons will flee to the mountains. Cannon said this morning that such statements from any source were ridiculous and misrepresented the temperance and intentions of the people. They would obey the law and submit quietly to the decision, but they hoped to receive liberal treatment from the administration so that their families would not be broken up and their children declared illegitimate. He did not know what might occur if the government should attempt to break up their families and punish the people for having in the past observed an ordinance of their church, but they would not resist the enforcement, in the future, of laws against polygamy. He should have a conference with the Attorney General on this subject soon, and as the United States District Attorney is now here the policy of treatment will probably soon be agreed upon. It will be a matter of Cabinet consultation soon. Cannon has been discussing the matter with prominent officials, and finds that there is a disposition among Congressmen especially to be liberal in the treatment of the Mormons for past offences but at the same time to rigidly enforce the laws in the future.

OLD TIPPECANOE'S COUSIN.

The Strange History of Alvin Harrison, Who was Disappointed in Love.

From the Oswego (Kansas) Correspondent of the Indianapolis Sentinel. There died one day last week, in this vicinity, an aged and eccentric man named Alvin Harrison. He was about 73 years of age, and was a cousin of ex-President Harrison. In 1840 he was a promising young lawyer of Koss county, Ohio, and stumped the State in the interval years thereafter he quit the practice of law and took up the practice of medicine. Later on he became engaged to a young lady, and at last the happy day was fixed for the celebration of this marriage. But before the arrival of the eventful day the young lady eloped with a stage driver, leaving Mr. Harrison to mourn her sudden and unexpected capture. This incident so disgusted Mr. Harrison with the fickleness of human nature and civilization in general that he turned his back upon the world, preferring a home in the trackless wilderness and barren prairies to one in the busy haunts of refined life. Some fourteen years ago he built a log cabin and took up his abode in the Neosho bottoms, and some three miles from town. His nearest neighbor at that time was miles away. He lived all alone and subsisted on a scanty and unwholesome diet and spoiled bacon. The cabin was open and uncomfortable, while he was content with a simple pallet of straw. He drove a team, poor, bony and dilapidated as himself, half-starved, and clothed in rope and string harness. He had an intelligent expression of countenance, but went about scarcely clad in rags and patches of the coarsest fabric; yet in the midst of filth and rags he was recognized as a man above average sense and educational culture, which always brought him respectful deference from all. It is said that aside from his property here, which consists of 330 acres of good land and some personal property, he owned valuable property in Ohio. Some years since his brother came to see him and endeavored to get him to abandon his isolated existence, but all in vain, for he remained alone till the last. When it was found that he was sick, the kind neighbors flocked in and did all in their power to alleviate his suffering, but all of no avail. After his death a box containing silver, was found and is now in the hands of respectable parties. Quite a number of standard works on medicine and law were also found. Among his effects was a letter, purporting to be from his niece, directed to him at Iowa, and dated 1865. In it several names are mentioned, which may serve as a clue to the whereabouts of his relatives that are living.

Pisani, $900 per month; to Signor Del Puente, $150 per week; to Parodi, $50 per week; to Signorica Lido, $40 per week; and to Signor Pyatt, $100 per week. ## COOKSVILLE.

The Eighteenth Anniversary of Rising Tide Lodge was celebrated last Saturday evening. Though speakers who were expected could not be there a good time was had. The hall was more than packed full. Rev. Mr. May, of Fulton, in place of other speakers, gave a good address. The Roberts family, vocalists, from Evansville, were unexpectedly present, and favored us with a few of their soul-stirring songs. This with a short programme by the Lodge of recitations, etc., the Lodge Glee Club and other home talent. Two barrels of apples and one of popped corn made all feel in rather a social spirit until near midnight.

Messrs William and J. G. Porter are doing quite a business drawing stone to Stoughton this winter. They have some of the best building stone in the country. Mr. C. Miller is also supplying a good many from his quarry though some two miles farther away.

Ice is more plenty now than it will be next July, though that is always the best time to get volunteer help to fill an ice house.

It seems to be now beyond a doubt that we are to have a church built this season.

Mr. B. S. Hoxie has concluded to finish the upper room of the cheese factory for a Lodge room and hall, as it has never been used for a "curing" room. The good Temperance hall will take possession on the first of February.

Fiat Money Many Years Ago.

From the Augusta (Me) Journal.

Hon. Moses S. Mayhew, one of the Senators from this country, exhibits to us a piece of calico that has a history. It is owned by Mrs. Isaac Rollins, of Mount Vernon. Her grandmother, Bussell, sold her house in Lowden, New Hampshire, for $600 in United States notes, and moved to Sandwich, New Hampshire. After keeping the $600 some time, she bought six yards of print for a dress and paid in said currency $100 a yard, it taking all of her money to buy said dress. When she sold the house, currency was somewhat depreciated, but not much. When she bought the six yards, $1 in silver or gold would have bought one yard, but in currency $100 per yard was paid. The grandmother Bussell died in Fayette, Me., some 35 years ago.

Bluff Ben Wade.

Ben Wade was the most original president of the United States Senate. It is related that one warm spring day, when he occupied the chair and his colleague was absent, dinner-time drew nigh and he wanted to leave. Garrett Davis of Kentucky had the floor, and at last Mr. Wade could stand it no longer. Giving a rap with his gavel, he said: "The Senator from Kentucky will suspend his remarks for a moment. The Senate do now adjourn. Those in favor will say aye—contrary minded, no—and the Senate stands adjourned until to-morrow at 12 o'clock."

The presiding officer was the only Senator from Ohio present, and he not only put his own motion, but cast the only vote on it and then announced the result.

Almost Persuaded.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Perry H. Smith is home from Europe and quite quite enamored of Gen. Grant. He traveled with the General in Spain, and was greatly pleased with him. The General was a superior gentleman socially, and Mr. Smith was obliged to undergo a radical change in his opinion of the ex-President. "I think," said Mr. Smith, "the chances are ten to one I will be a Grant man."

treatment of all

Chronic Diseases

THROAT,

LUNGS,

HEART,

STOMACH,

LIVER.

Head, nerves, kidney, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia,

&c. Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by a quiet, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice is one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well, nor harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattery. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, responsible in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reasonable and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

ALBION.

The fourth lecture in the Kumlion course was delivered by Rev. H. Stone Richardson, of Lake Mills, Thursday evening, January 9th, at the Grange Hall. Subject "Our Heroes Past and Present." The lecture was given with taste and eloquence peculiar to its author. The speaker showed forcibly the difference between daring and heroism. He said that the wonderful deeds of men performed in the face of the applanads of the multitude, are not the outgrowth of a heroic heart, but that the self denials and inconveniences which men suffer for the good of others was heroism of the highest type. Before we can be heroic in the face of the world, we must learn how to be heroic in silence. "May we have him again," was the expression of all present.

At the last church meeting of the Seventh Day Baptist church, Rev. V. Hall asked the privilege of reconsidering his acceptance of the call to fill the pulpit the present year. The request was unanimously granted. The reconsideration resulted in his declining the call, and asking for a letter of standing, which was also granted.

The last lecture of the Kumlion course will be given by Rev. T. P. Sawin, of Janesville, at the Grange Hall, Thursday evening, January 23d. Subject, "Mirabeau and the French Revolution."

—Rev. T. E. Babcock continues to slowly, but surely, fall in health. He is now reduced about to a skeleton. He seems anxious for the time of his release to come. None but those who have been with him can have any correct idea of his suffering.

—Samuel Burdick has been quite sick, but it is hoped that the prospect for his speedy recovery is good.

—Charles Williams' two boys have been having the scarlet fever.

—George B. Leonard has been in town the past few days looking after the interests of the Heika Insurance Company.

—A good many of our farmers are lamenting the failure of the Town Insurance Company. The only cause of a failure was the lack of co-operation. If people see where they have missed it, now is a good time to start again, as a good many of the policies given by other companies expire within the next few months.

—R. D. Saunders has received the appointment of Deputy Sheriff for Dane county.

—J. C. Millard and wife, of Montour, Iowa, are visiting with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Southwick. Mr. Millard is one of our old students who found a home in the west, where he is now engaged in the mercantile business.

—Prof. Marsh delivered a lecture in Academy Chapel on Monday evening. We understand there was a fair attendance.

—Twenty degrees below zero is the lowest point indicated by the mercury here this winter.

—The matters of difficulty in regard to the school are, we think, in a fair way to a thorough investigation, which we hope may result in a permanent settlement on a sound basis.

creditable porcelain. Soon after, he obtained possession of the old City Waterworks, Schuykill and Chestnut street, and built there a large glazing and enameling kiln, mill and other works. The first results were unsatisfactory—the glazing cracking and the body blistering—but it was discovered before long that those were due to the fact that the man who had put the ware in the kiln had been bribed to spoil it. His discharge was followed by immediate success, and ever since porcelain of excellent quality has been manufactured there. There is scarcely anything in which we have made greater improvement within a few years than in pottery and porcelain. We used to import all our fine specimens from Great Britain; but now we produce a good deal that ranks high and is in the best sense artistic. The improvement is steadily going on, and it is thought that before a great while we shall be able to compete successfully with the best work of England in this as in many other manufactures.

PAPAL ENOYOLIAI.

The Head of the Roman Catholic Church on the General Political, Social and Religious Situation.

Rome, Jan. 11.—The Pope's encyclical occupies seven columns of the Observatore Romano. The Pope inveighs against Socialism, Communism and Nihilism, which militate—no longer secretly, but openly—against the civil state, rupturing the paternalistic tie, ignoring the rights of property, claiming everything, however legally inherited or honestly acquired, and attempting even the lives of Kings. These sinister agencies spring from the Reformation, which opened the sluice-gates of skepticism till godless Governments have arisen, wherein the Author and Redeemer of the world is ignored. Youth are trained to believe man's desires are bounded by the present, and without any hereafter, and hence the impatient and aggressive spirit which seeks its gratification at other's expense. Thus the natural development of the Reformation was indicated by previous Pontiffs from Clement XII, to Pius IX in their allocutions and encyclicals; but the church's warning is more than ever required. Equally desiderated by the sects is contrary to Scripture. There are distinctions between angels in heaven; a fortiori, there must be distinctions between men on earth. When tyranny prevails, then the church shields the oppressed; when the tyrant is too strong, she enjoins resignation.

The Pope justifies marriage and subsequence of woman to man, of child to parent, and of servant to master. Such interdependence rightly observed, in the State as in the family, would operate on earth as it does in heaven. Poverty, of which Socialism is impatient, is corrected by the church, which, besides her own charities, opens a wide gateway to the rich, to whom she thus associates the poor. Such is the solution of the evils for which Socialism seeks a revolutionary remedy. Let, therefore, all principalities and powers accept the church, the safeguards of earthly and surety of heavenly things.

The Italia regards the encyclical as an appeal to all Catholics to a crusade against modern institutions, and with that object, to participate in political elections.

A Lively Ride Through the Mohawk Valley.

From the Utica Republican.

A few weeks ago, during the first serious storm, a freight arrived at a point between De Witt and the bridge and there stopped. The conductor went ahead in order to arrange for getting into the yard as soon as possible. While engaged in his reconnaissance, he heard and felt a tremendous concussion, which started his train, double-headed, and all ahead considerable. Going back to ascertain the cause of the trouble, he found that he had been run into by a freight train, which was moving so slowly, however, as to simply stop in the middle of the caboose from the track and allow it to repose gracefully on the pilot of the engine. Knowing that he had sent a man back to warn all trains following, the conductor hardly knew what to think of the matter, till he boarded the engine and found the engineer (whom we shall call Jones) fast asleep, and no water in the boiler. Arousing him the engineer seemed to comprehend the situation but feebly, and the conductor considering him somewhat intoxicated left him. The next day Superintendent Priest went to De Witt in his special coach and from there determined to go to Albany, with a "light" as it is called, his coach being attached to an engine and caboose. The engineer proved to be "Jones," and he ran so slowly to Manlius, that another road official, who was in the superintendent's car, remonstrated with the conductor, who at once went to the engineer, and complaining of the slow rate of speed at which they had been traveling, asked him to go considerably faster. Jones obeyed the order most surprisingly, running time to time through West Albany averaging over fifty miles an hour. Through Herkimer, Ponda, and other water stations he dashed as if propelled by a hurricane; and the trip has gone into railroad history as one of the most frightful of the age. The next day Jones went up to take his engine for the return trip, but having as usual, the water in the boiler, he burned his engine badly, and that he was acting strangely, he was not sent out, and subsequent examinations convinced sundry medical men that he was really insane. Since then he has been in good hands, and will probably recover, but his trip through the valley will not be forgotten, in this generation, at least.

BRIEFLETS.

—Longer days.
—January almost half gone.
—Free literary social at Court Street church to-night.
—Revival meetings are increasing in interest at the First Methodist church.
—Everybody took notes at the concert last night, and the notes seemed to please everybody.

—The footlights promise to be kept burning, there being a number of theatrical and musical entertainments booked for the next six weeks.

—Captain Putnam and wife are in the city, and are warmly greeted by their many friends. They will participate in the annual reunion of All Souls church also.

—Frank Tappan, the taxidermist, is basing himself with "Old Parker's" hide. He will stuff it till it looks so life-like that Old Parker himself will fancy he is resurrected.

—A thoughtful observer who stood watching the short jackets of the Red Hussars, asked one of them if he wasn't standing in deep water when he had that coat cut.

—All Souls church observes its anniversary to-day. A ladies meeting occupied the afternoon. A collation will be served at 6:30 o'clock after which the annual report of the pastor will be given.

Ford, copies of the warrants served upon them, they having demanded the same, and tendered the Sheriff the necessary fees.

—Trainer & McMahon is the title of a new firm, which established business in this city a week or so ago, being engaged almost exclusively in tramping it and getting drunk. They are both old traveling men, who have experience in the business. By invitation of Justice Prichard they were the guests of the Hotel de Comstock for some days, and on yesterday, on leaving, borrowed fifty cents of the landlady, which they proceeded to invest in whiskey. The stimulant was of sub-a poor quality as to make both partners sick, and they are again at Comstock's under treatment. Justice Prichard thinks it will be thirty days before they are able to be jout again.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 19 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 30 degrees above. Snowing nearly all day. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 20 and 27 degrees above.

The indications are, diminishing north and west winds, stationary or lower temperature and falling barometer.

A PREACHER'S FOOTSTOOL.

Rev. Mr. Sawin seems to be greatly appreciated by his people. A fresh indication has occurred, it being the presentation to him by the members of the Bible class, of a very handsome foot stool. It was a pleasing surprise to him.

A WORTHY COMPLIMENT.

The Madison Journal does our old friend justice in this personal: "Hon. Andrew Barrios, of Rock county, for two or three years a member of the Assembly, made the State Journal a pleasant call this morning. He is one of the substantial farmers of our neighboring county, and represents that his brother farmers who have been fortunate enough to keep out of debt are in a prosperous condition. A few who in flush times, neglected the conditions necessary to keep afloat, or were unfortunate in other ways, are so involved that there is little hope that they can extricate themselves, and will finally have to be foreclosed. The ratio of such is happily small."

A FEAST OF FAT THINGS.

The Concert Given by the Bower City Band Last Evening.

Last evening a fine audience, both in numbers and make-up, gathered at the Congregational church to enjoy the sixth annual concert of the Bower City Band. The friends of the Band were prepared for a most enjoyable musical treat, but certain it is that even their high expectations were more than realized. Their very opening piece, a potpourri, introducing "Rule Britannia," Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and the "Russian National Hymn," happily surprised the audience, and showed that the Band had made marked improvements, and that they were capable of rendering the choicest of music. In the introductory grand attack on the different movements, and the phrasing were especially commendable. The Band selected their music so as to show to good advantage their ability to handle, and handle well, the several varieties of movement, some of which were very difficult, as in a selection from the opera "Maritana," which they played later in the programme. This was a very difficult number, full of resources, as it gave opportunity for a great variety of solo playing the most marked of which were alto-bass and cornet. In the phrasing of the different melodies the Band showed remarkable skill. "The Poet and Peasant" evidently pleased the audience better than any other number given by the Band. It is the most brilliant and difficult number ever performed in this city by the Band, but its various changes and movements, were rendered with skill and perfection of detail seldom met with except in purely professional organizations. It received a well-merited storm of applause. We doubt if the number could have been more correctly rendered by a majority of so-called professional bands, taking into account the number of performers. The cornet polka, which captivated the audience, and the Band as a closing piece rendered grandly "Old Hundred." The Band called forth the heartiest applause, and it is evident that the audience appreciated the efforts which the organization has put forth to present a high order of music in a manner equal to professional skill. The Band ranks high not only at home, but in the State, and justly so. Mr. D. D. Bennett, who is acknowledged to be one of the best musical directors in the State, merits no little credit for his part in bringing about this success. His baton is not wielded for show, but every motion seems to count.

Mr. S. Kent, the cornet soloist, rendered admirably "Reve d'Amour." It would have done credit to a more pretentious player, and called forth an enthusiastic encore to which he responded by playing most touchingly the "Sweet By and By."

Dr. C. T. Barnes, of Chicago, added much to the evening's entertainment. His tenor solo "Could Thou but Know," was sung only as he could sing it, and appealed directly to the sympathy and appreciation of the audience, for surely a purer tenor and a more conscientious singer never appeared before a Janesville audience. He was encored, and responded, and later in the programme gave another song "My Dearest Heart," which was also well received. His voice blended very sweetly in a duet with Mrs. S. John, "How Dear to Me the Hour," which also called forth an encore which was gracefully acknowledged by both.

Mrs. S. John never appeared to better advantage than last evening. Her costume was elegant, and very becoming indeed, but her singing drew away all attention from this. "Tell Me My Heart," was finely rendered by her. It is a song written in Bishop's truly artistic style, and is artistically interpreted. She was heartily encored and responded by singing, "The Clang of the Wooden Spoon," which was well-received. In the duet with Dr. Barnes she sang very sweetly. Her voice was unusually clear and full, and her enunciation distinct. It is doubtful if she ever sang better.

Miss Izzie Gibbs, of Worcester, Mass., who has already made a very favorable impression here as a pianist, fully established her popularity here by her duet with Prof. Titcomb. The technic was noticeable, and the selection though a difficult one, was rendered in a very happy manner, attracting the closest attention and the most hearty appreciation.

Prof. Titcomb served as accompanist during the evening, and his delicate yet expressive touch of the key board added greatly to the effect of the songs rendered. Aside from being a very fine pianist he excels greatly as an accompanist.

Prof. John Lueders, of Madison, who is not altogether a stranger here gave a violin solo "Andante Caprice," which he executed finely. His playing is characterized by smooth, sympathetic tones. As a whole there is no doubt but that it was the best concert yet given by the Band, and most largely attended. The citizens should feel proud of such a local organization, and grateful to those who so kindly assisted in making the entertainment so pleasing and successful.

PATRICK O'NEILL'S FUNERAL.

The funeral services of Patrick O'Neill were held at St. Patrick's Catholic church this afternoon, Father Doyle officiating, and a large number of sympathizing friends joining in paying their tribute of sorrow at the death of him with whom they had for so many years associated, and whom they had learned to love and respect so well. The deceased was an honored member of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society, and that organization attended the funeral in a body, all of the necessary arrangements for the funeral having been made by the Board of Directors according to the usual rule relative to burying deceased members. Mr. Richard Brown, and Mr. F. Quinn had charge of the arrangements. Mr. J. W. Hogan acted as Marshal, and Mr. John M. Connelly and Mr. John Birmingham as flag-bearers. Messrs. James McCaffrey, W. E. Nightingale, Michael Murphy, Tony Brown, John McCue, and T. B. Leahy served as pall-bearers. The funeral services were very impressive, and many joined in the procession, which accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

Mr. O'Neill has been a resident of this city for many years, and has ever led a quiet, industrious life, uneventful, yet replete with acts which make his memory dear to many. He leaves a wife and two children, who will receive the heartiest sympathy in this hour of their deep affliction.

SNEEL IN SHACKLES.

Tall Jim is held for trial in bonds of $3,000. This forenoon the examination in the case of the State vs. James Snell was closed, R. D. Whitford making the closing argument, it being his maiden effort as a regular practicing attorney. His argument surprised those who listened to it, and reflected great credit upon him. Justice Balch at once gave his decision, which was that Snell should be held for trial to the Circuit Court. The bonds were fixed at $3,000, and as Snell is unable to furnish them he will be obliged to rest in jail until his time for trial comes. The only defense which Snell attempted to show, was that he had been unduly familiar with the complaining witness all the preceding summer, and that she seduced him. He admitted that he was at Hald's house at the time of the alleged outrage, but that it required no force to accomplish his purpose, as the woman was willing. The prosecution showed the apparent falsity of this claim, and made out a very strong case.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Adeline (Morgan) Akin, relict of the late Edward Akin, departed this life, at her home in Harmony, on Monday, January 13th, 1879, in the 75th year of her age.

Mrs. Akin came with her husband to Wisconsin, from the State of New York, thirty-four years ago. A residence of thirty-three years in the town of Harmony, only a short distance out of this city, had secured for this good woman an extensive acquaintance, and there will long remain very tender and pleasant memories of her in the hearts of them all. She was a woman of great kindness of spirit, and being a Universalist in religious faith, she delighted to exemplify in the largest possible measure the crowning grace of love in her home life, as also in her social intercourse with neighbors and friends. She was a true and faithful wife, and as a mother, words fail to make a suitable expression of her worth. Though she has passed away from the pleasant home over which she so long presided with matronly sweetness and grace, she is not dead. She will live, not only in the sense of being immortal, but in the hearts of all those whom she tenderly loved. And thus to live, even if there were no blessed assurance of an endless life, is not to die. Mrs. Akin leaves nine children, three sons and six daughters, Morgan J., and W. F. Akin, of Harmony, and Dr. George S. Akin, of Harrisonville, Missouri. The daughters are Mrs. Orrin West, of Richmond, Walworth county, Mrs. John Hicks, Mrs. Augustus Wilcox, Mrs. Wilson Martin, and Miss Emily Akin, of Harmony, and Mrs. Ezra N. Cramer, of Fredonia, Kansas. These are all worthy sons and daughters of a worthy parentage.

Mrs. Akin was a relative of Hon. E. D. Morgan, formerly Governor of the State of New York. There is a numerous array of grandchildren and great grandchildren. During the past autumn Mrs. Akin, with her daughter Emily, made a pleasant visit of two months with the members of the family in Missouri and Kansas, returning home about a month ago. Now it is joyous to believe that the dear mother has entered upon the blessedness of the heavenly home. The funeral services will be held at the family residence, to-morrow, at 1 o'clock p.m.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—The Clement Brothers' troupe at Morgan's hall on Friday evening, notwithstanding the night and other drawbacks, is pronounced by all a brilliant success. The hall was comfortably filled, and all seemed to enjoy the entertainment hugely. The inimitable Forester was missed somewhat, but the general personnel and parts of the troupe.

—The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Huxtable, of this place, in the death of their infant baby on Thursday last, of inflammation of the bowels. It was two months old.

—Mr. George Thorpe has sold his interest in the most market to his brother, D. E. Thorpe, who takes possession immediately. Elder Gardner left on Wednesday night of last week for Dodge Center, Iowa, where he will spend about ten days publicly reviewing the Sabbath question as pronounced by a local minister of that place.

—Elder Loomis occupied the Seventh Day Baptist pulpit in this place on Saturday morning last.

—Twelve hogs, averaging 447 pounds a head, was the proportions of a sale made by David McCulloch some days ago. That is not duplicated in the same number before.

—The western fever took quite a number from the River neighborhood, the past year or two, who have moved west, but Ed. Brightman is entitled to one tally in keeping the number good. It is a boy, and all well.

—Mr. I. P. Bullis is about starting up the wood department of his shops again, and to this end has employed Mr. P. B. Barnson, of Edgerton, who has already taken up his abode in the village, in the vacant house owned by Mr. S. C. Carr.

—Mr. C. P. Lane, of Koshkonong, lost his pocketbook, one evening last week, either here or between here and Koshkonong, containing about $12 in money, and some valuable papers, and has not yet recovered it.

—Mr. S. C. Carr was duly installed, on Friday, as Master of Pomona Grange, and left the same night for Milwaukee, to attend the State Grange, in convention there.

Fulton, assisted by George Barker and Mrs. Henry Miles. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. G. W. Lawrence, of Janesville, who is always at home before such an audience and made one of his happiest efforts. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Loomis, of Milton, an easy, fluent speaker, who in turn was followed by Rev. Elston Dunn, of Milton, who for happy wit and side splitting wit and humor in his speeches might well be said to rival Artemus Ward or Billy Billings. Prof. H. D. Maxon, of Milton college followed in a neat, eloquent, scholarly address, which showed him to be master of the art of holding attention, and pleasing the fancy of the audience. This was followed by a reading historical and a typical address by R. J. Greenman, Esq., of this village, which was well received and highly spoken of. Mr. Austin Butts, of Beloit college, closed the speaking of the evening by a few sound remarks in the interest of agriculture, and the patrons and friends of Dulac Grange, who had filled the large hall to its full capacity broke ranks stronger than ever in the belief that the society of the Patrons of Husbandry as an institution of mutual help and improvement was a success.

—The officers of the co-operative association store took an invoice last week and under the hand of the cashier, Mr. Wm. Jones, by the Rev. Mr. Eldridge, at the Parochial in Milton, December 24th. The notice missed fire on account of lack of room, and this week it is our province to chronicle another happy event of like character in the same family, to wit—the marriage on Saturday evening last at the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. Wm. Jones, by the Rev. Mr. Eldridge, of Mr. and Mrs. Merrifield and Miss Francis Titton. The contracting parties in both cases wish the hearty congratulations and best wishes of their numerous friends.
